

BLAINE'S CHANCES.

If the Presidential election were to take place at this time, in view of Sec. Blaine's attitude on the Italian question, nothing could possibly prevent his election to the Presidency.

However, when the election does take place, the people of the United States will have had time to forget that Blaine has entitled himself to the right to the people's vote, and they won't even have the opportunity to cast their ballots for him, unless something else turns up at the proper moment to awaken the people to the fact that the Plumed Knight is the right man for the place.

Now that the Australian ballot system has become a law in this State, candidates will have to rely on stump speakers and the newspapers to get themselves properly before the public. Heretofore the man with money to spend generally knocked the persimmon. It is not our province to discuss the methods employed by him in spending it, but he generally put it where he thought it would do the most good in pulling him into office. But by the passage of the law in question the gates of corruption have been pretty effectually closed, and no man without real merit has any business hunting for office now. The man who aspires to office in the future will have to rely almost exclusively upon the newspapers and public speakers to get himself properly before the people. His valiant services to his country will have to be discussed pro and con through the columns of the press, and if they are not such as to entitle him to the confidence and good will of the masses, his banner will have to go down under the criticisms he will be subject to. The work that heretofore has been done by the county and State central committees will have to, in a measure, fall into other hands. There will be no use for a "corruption fund," and the successful ones will be just as happy after the battles have been fought without it.—Gazette.

"We, therefore, submit," says an esteemed Italian newspaper of New York, "that the Constitution of the United States is ridiculous." This, of course, is a great pity, but at the same time Americans will try to worry along with it, as they have done with considerable success for the past hundred years.

Oroville (Cal.) New Era: A young man in LaPorte advertised for a wife, and his sister answered the advertisement, and now the young man thinks there is no balm in advertisements, and the old folks think it pretty hard to have two fools in the one family.

Miss Cousins Cited to Appear.

Chicago, April 27.—The Board of Control of the National World's Fair Commission to-day decided to take up the case of Secretary Phoebe Cousins, and cited her to appear before the Board to-morrow and answer the charges of insubordination for changing the minutes at the November meeting etc. Miss Cousins says if she goes before the Board she will produce evidence that the changes were made by the ladies themselves. She also asserts that she had letters from the President Mrs. Palmer, begging her (Miss Cousins) to omit the changed parts of the minutes. This Miss Cousins says she refused to do and characterizes the ladies actions as anarchy in high places. Miss Cousins is little concerned whether the Board of Control sides with her or against her, as she asserts that no authority but a full Commission can eject her.
